

My relationship with trusted providers will ensure that your project outcomes realise your ambitions. You might choose for providers to include my services as part of their package or prefer to hire my services directly. Either way, you can be sure that both you and your provider will be clear about what you will achieve and know that your solution will benefit from the latest products and developments in teaching technology.

I can offer support in the following contexts...

implementation

- establishing proof of concept
- overseeing in-house project management
- monitoring sign-off procedures
- providing staff training programmes
- quality and budget control

planning

- embedding IT strands into the school development plan
- project planning and scheduling
- infrastructure design options
- content management options
- policy composition

innovation

- managing pedagogical change
- curriculum and course design
- staff mentoring and coaching
- personalised learning environments
- embedding IT into the curriculum
- resource development

vision

- schedule 2 composition
- project scope and feasibility
- exposure to new technology options
- long-term vision building
- mission clarification
- ...and inspiration!

Laurence Boulter
Educational IT Consultant

Outstanding ICT

07581 717965
laurenceboulter.co.uk laurenceboulter@gmail.com

LBo

If you would like to find out more about how I might support you, or discuss your specific circumstances please feel free to contact me for an informal, no obligation, chat or send me an email. Here's my card...